Description

Lviv. Halytska Square

Halytska Square is located on the territory of the former Halytska (Galician) suburb, which began from the Halytska Gate (now here is the completion of Halytska Street).

The Halytska square resembles the letter T, the top of which rests on the Cathedral Square, and the leg - in Mickiewicz Square. The houses, the facades of which overlook the north side of the square, are assigned to Valova and Halytska streets.

In 2001, a 10 meters high equestrian monument to King Danylo was installed on the square, made of granite and bronze. King Danylo sits on a horse without a crown, which, along with a trident, is attached to the pedestal under the hooves. The masquerading lions in the corners of the pedestal and griffins on the rider's saddle contemplate on the four sides of the world. The King's face is facing the ancient Galician way - now Halytska and Prince Roman streets.
